

“Days on retreat. Recollection in order to know God, to know yourself and thus to make progress. A necessary time for discovering where and how you should change your life. What should I do? What should I avoid?”

St. Josemaría Escrivá
Furrow #177

*“God waits for us every day in all the immense panorama of work. Understand this well: there is something holy, something divine, hidden in the most ordinary situations and it is up to each one of you to discover it...
Either we learn to find our Lord in ordinary everyday life, or else we shall never find him.”*

WESPINE

Retreats sponsored by Wespine provide an opportunity to reflect on everyday occupations, family life and relationships with others, in light of the Catholic faith. An atmosphere of personal prayer and recollection is maintained.

Retreats for Men

The purpose of the retreats has been clearly described by Saint Josemaría Escrivá, founder of Opus Dei:

"First of all, interior life. How few really understand this! If they hear about the interior life, they imagine some obscure temple. For more than a quarter of a century, I have been saying that such isn't the case. I talk about the interior life of ordinary Christians who habitually find themselves in the hubbub of the city, in the light of the day, in the street, at work, with their families or simply relaxing; they are centered on Jesus all day long. And what is this except a life of continuous prayer?"
